Dr. Lee Spetner, 1997 book, Not by Chance! Shattering the Modern Theory of Evolution,

“But in all the reading of the life-sciences literature, I’ve never found a mutation that added information... all point mutations that have been studied on the molecular level turn out to reduce the genetic information and not increase it” (p. 131, 138).

“The complete absence of any intermediate forms between the major groups of animals, which is one of the most striking and most significant phenomena brought out by the study of zoology, has hitherto been overlooked, or at least ignored... No matter how far back we go in the fossil record of previous animal life upon the earth we find no trace of any animal forms which are inter-mediate between the various major groups or phyla. This can only mean one thing...if we are willing to accept the facts we must believe that there never were such intermediates, or in other words that these major groups have from the very first borne the same relation to each other that they bear today.”
